

Flipped Classroom

Students have more opportunities to use the knowledge, ask questions and voice out their opinions – exposes students to an active and constructive environment rich in active learning discovery.

(Gannod, et al., 2008)

